Academic Highlights of Boarding Schools

Living, studying, and playing at a boarding school is a lot like a small university campus: you get a top-notch education, gain unforgettable experiences, and make lifelong friends!

All of our boarding school partners offer challenging, in-depth core curriculums of English, Math, Science, Humanities, and Arts, while also emphasizing creativity and independent thinking. It's one of the things that make USA boarding schools so desirable to students and parents all over the world.

Here are academic advantages available to international students:

AP Courses

Advanced Placement (AP) courses are equivalent to a first-year university course, so they're great for students who want to challenge themselves in a particular subject. Plus, they give you a fast track into higher education!

AP courses typically include Biology, Calculus, Chemistry, English, Spanish and US History, but some schools even offer specialized AP courses in fields like Art, Computer Science, Economics, Environmental Science, Geography, Latin, Music, and Psychology.

Specialty Programs

Specialty programs cultivate students' unique talents. Given that companies like Google and Apple are leaders in innovation, STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) curriculums are very popular with American students right now. Additionally, some schools have specialty programs in fields like business leadership, multimedia, and performing arts.

IB Programs

For highly motivated students who are looking for a more challenging experience, some boarding schools offer the prestigious International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB). The prestigious and rigorous 2-year IB Program gives students a globally-recognized degree.

Look for the  icon on a school profile to see if it offers this option!

Convalidation

Do you need your high school in your home country to formally recognize the courses you have taken in the USA? Not a problem! The credits you earn in the US can be applied to your education back home. Educatius will guide you with the process of convalidating these courses.

Foreign Languages

Beyond English, many international students interested in studying an additional language can typically choose from Spanish and French. Additionally, some boarding schools also offer German, Latin, Mandarin Chinese, Russian, Italian, Korean, and Japanese.

Sports and Arts at Boarding Schools

Playing Sports

For international students, joining an athletics team is one of the best ways to build friendships with your fellow American students. Virtually every USA boarding school offers some type of athletic team or individual sport – either competitive or intramural.

The most common American sports offered are: American football, soccer, basketball, volleyball, tennis, track and field and baseball. Many boarding schools have state-of-the-art facilities and programs not normally found at other schools. A few Educatus Group boarding schools feature specialized sports academies, while others have extraordinary on-campus facilities like horseback riding stables, golf courses, Olympic-size swimming centers or even ski slopes near campus.

For the complete list of sports available at each school, browse our school profiles!

Arts Classes

Many boarding schools boast world-class performing arts opportunities with teachers who are seasoned professionals in their craft. Imagine displaying your artwork in a local gallery or acting in a high tech studio.

Every US boarding school offers some type of art instruction along with their regular core curriculum. Students can earn credit and get specialized instruction that fully develops their talents or uncovers new skills.

Many boarding schools provide additional experiences in the way of after-school clubs—a great way to meet American students who share the same interests!

Schools that have the  icon on their profile offer a particularly strong arts program.

Life On Campus

International students tell us that living in a boarding school dormitory was one of the greatest experiences of their lives!

In a typical US boarding school, since you'll be eating, studying, playing, and relaxing with your classmates, you'll form friendships that will last a lifetime.

Each campus has its own unique set up, but boys and girls will always have separate living quarters. Adult house parents, who may also be teachers at the school, will live in the dorms, too, providing warm and caring emotional support and supervision. International students say they especially feel supported academically and socially in this welcoming atmosphere.

Life on campus is fun! Not only are you steps from class (great if you oversleep), but there's a wide range of healthy foods available at mealtimes, often prepared by a professional chef who makes delicious dishes.

The best part? You get to live and study with your friends and classmates — from America and all over the world!

For my future, I would like to study physics in a research laboratory. In the United States, you have more freedom about what you are going to take. There is more time for you to go in deep in what you want to learn. I live in the dorm and I love my experience because there are students from all over the world sharing the same house. Living in a dorm which is just three minutes' walk away from the campus means in the mornings, you don't have to get up really early. Sport was a really big part of what I did so it really mattered to me that the school had right equipment and teams. In my school I played tennis, I'm the captain and number-one player in the tennis team. If you're thinking about coming to America to study, I highly recommend you do. – Hakushin C, China

I will always remember how fun it was at my boarding school no matter the conditions, with the sunshine we would go to the beach and on the rainy days we would all gather and hang out in someone's room together. As the days passed we would always find something different to do everyday. But the thing I will remember the most is the second family I made here. The way my friends became my best friends and how they all turned into my second family. – Frederik B, Norway

I want to be an engineer in the future. Schools here give me a chance to take part in academics and other activities like sports. My school is close to Boston, one of the biggest cities in the US. We have a lot of good colleges in Boston, for example MIT and Harvard. Right now, beside from studying in school, I also participate in Math Team. We have won five competitions already. I'm a junior and I'm taking AP Calculus and Physics, this will help me when I am applying to college. Living in the dorm is the greatest experience for me. First of all, it is so convenient. Every morning you just wake up, have breakfast and then go downstairs to study. Students are brought together like a family. – Jonathan N, Vietnam

Weekends are filled with enjoyable activities. Team sports and games on Saturdays—they may be at home or away at another boarding school campus where you can show your school spirit by cheering on your classmates. You might go swimming, jam in a music studio, see a movie in the library, paint in the art studio or attend a crazy themed costume party in the dorms!

Excursions are sometimes planned. You might visit a local university or a nearby beach. You could go shopping, eat out at a pizzeria in town or take a stroll down the main street with your friend. Some schools will offer extra weekend study sessions for students who want to improve their SAT or TOEFL scores. There are just so many awesome things about living at a boarding school that we can't list them all here. What we can say is that you should get ready to embark on an adventure that you'll never, ever forget.

I live in a big building with 50 girls, with four families of dorm-parents living with us. One of the best memories I have is decorating for Christmas. More than 50 people running around, throwing fairy lights all over the shelves, and singing at the top of our lungs Michael Bublé and Mariah Carey.

If you can, live in the dorms. The rules are strict, but you will never regret it, I promise. This year was the best of my life. I met people who became my friends and shook up my life for the best. Coming here is the most positively life-changing experience ever. – Sara P, Italy

Being at Lake Tahoe Prep was one of the best experiences I've had in life. Besides the great education, friendly people, and fantastic sport opportunities, I was able to follow my passion of snowboarding. I became a professional snowboarder after I left SVA and studied medicine next to my sports career. It was great! I wish I could do it all again!

What Students Say About Educatus College and University Services

I really enjoyed my year at the college! I live at the dorms with three native speakers so I can practice my English a lot and get to know about the country. I enjoy living on my own and getting more confident and independent. The Americans are super friendly. Not only the teacher but also your classmates are respectful and also want to know more about your country. I found lots of good friends and I don't want to go back. I will miss not only my wonderful relaxed life but also my American friends. I would recommend everyone to study abroad! Thank you Educatus for letting me experience this wonderful year in the US. – Kay O. from Germany

I felt like I was heard and seen by the Educatus staff. I also felt like I got all the help I could ask for throughout the process. – Camilla S. from Finland
